Quaestio UCLA undergraduate history journal is the official publication of the Theta Upsilon chapter of Phi Alpha Theta international history honors society. In accordance with chapter bylaws, all editors of the journal are members in good standing of Phi Alpha Theta. Quaestio accepts unpublished, original manuscripts from all current UCLA undergraduate students that meet the criteria as established by the Editorial Board and posted on the chapter's official web site at <http://www.studentgroups.ucla.edu/pat>. Calls for papers are issued at intervals to be determined by the Editorial Board. Manuscripts submitted to the journal that are introduced into the editorial process are not returned.

Publication in the printed version of this journal is concurrent with publication onto the web site. While authors retain the copyright to their work, they must notify the Editorial Board prior to submitting it to any other printed or online publication.
