MEMORANDUM OF CONVERSATION

PARTICIPANTS:

Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs
Dr. James R. Schlesinger, Secretary of Defense
Major General Brent Scowcroft, Deputy Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs

DATE AND TIME:

Thursday, August 9, 1973
3:30 p.m.

SUBJECT:

French Nuclear Discussion

Kissinger: What we want is something which makes Galley drool but doesn't give him anything but something to study for a while. I will brutalize Galley. Is that doable? Lead them on without giving up anything -- we want to get a handle on them without knowing it.

The British are behaving shitty. If they know we have another option, they might buck up. The Brits helped draft the nuclear agreement and now won't help defend it.

[Told about the "instructed Danish representative" and the Brimelow brief to the Nine.]

If they want to play this game, we don't want to use them to funnel information to the Nine.

Schlesinger: We have a British team here to talk about cooperation on [redacted] We can stop talking to them or move them out of the building.

[redacted]

Kissinger: Let's stop talking on [REDACTED] but don't move them out. Just tell them [REDACTED] is complete, we have a new Secretary and he's reviewing policy and nothing is agreed on [REDACTED]

Schlesinger: One thing which scares the British is a special relationship between the U. S. and the Germans.

Kissinger: And putting Britain and France on the same [REDACTED] would get the point across.

Can Foster prepare a good briefing? We can talk about it at the end of the next week.
