Contents

Preface ix
Introduction: Traditions of Nationhood in France and Germany 1

I. THE INSTITUTION OF CITIZENSHIP
1. Citizenship as Social Closure 21
2. The French Revolution and the Invention of National Citizenship 35
3. State, State-System, and Citizenship in Germany 50

II. DEFINING THE CITIZENRY: THE BOUNDS OF BELONGING
4. Citizenship and Naturalization in France and Germany 75
5. Migrants into Citizens: The Crystallization of Jus Soli in Late-Nineteenth-Century France 85
6. The Citizenry as Community of Descent: The Nationalization of Citizenship in Wilhelmine Germany 114
8. Continuities in the German Politics of Citizenship 165

Conclusion 179
Notes 191
Bibliography 245
Index 267